Self-Rationing of Gasoline by Every Motorist Is Urged

Henderson Asks Voluntary Action in All Unrationed States

Washington, Sept. 14—(AP)—Donald M. Nelson said today he would disclose the name of the new rubber administrator late this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

The War Production Board chairman conferred with President Roosevelt on plans for putting into operation the program recommended by the special Baruch rubber committee, which urged an administrator to have "full and complete authority in all matters related to rubber."

The Baruch committee recommended appointment of such an administrator in its report asking nationwide rationing of gasoline and a 35-mile-per-hour speed limit the country over. Roosevelt said today that the job would be filled soon, probably on Monday, and that most of the Baruch recommendations would be put into effect simultaneously.

Asks Cooperation

Price Administrator Leon Henderson in Washington Saturday night and in a radio address yesterday asked motorists in unrationed areas to place themselves voluntarily under the same basic 4 gallons a week gasoline rationing now in force in the 17 eastern states.

Declaring that it would be several weeks before coupon ration books could be printed to carry out the nationwide gas rationing recommended by the Baruch rubber committee, Henderson cautioned that "today and every day that passes until the cut is made we Americans are wasting one billion tire miles in unnecessary driving."

All on Equal Footing

His request followed other indications from OPA that national rationing, when placed in effect, would put the rest of the country on an equal footing with the east as to the amount of gasoline allowed motorists.

"I don't think we have to wait to make a really good start," Henderson declared. "We can begin to make a big dent in that pile of wasted rubber if we take this matter into our own hands for the time being."

240 Miles a Month

"I am, therefore, asking that every driver in the unrationed areas immediately put himself voluntarily on the same mileage basis as his fellow Americans in the 17 rationed eastern states."

"In those states, 7 out of every 10 drivers have an 'A' sticker pasted on their windshields. That

Confessed Slayer Is 'Ready for Chair'

Miami, Fla., Sept. 14—(AP)—A quick trial was forecast today for Vincent Christy, who told officers that he is "ready for the electric chair" as punishment for killing four persons here in a single night.

State Attorney G. A. Worley said he would request a special session of the grand jury, and hoped that Christy could be indicted and tried within 60 days.

"I don't want 10 years or life, either," the calm ex-convict told officers. "Electrocute me."

Investigator I. R. Mills said Christy confessed Saturday night that it was he who shot Irving Leopold, operator of a meat market, "to settle an old score," then killed Leopold's wife and his stepson, six-year-old Stephen.

He said he also slew Ralph J. Morin, Jr., 19, but not before the youth had snatched one of his pistols and wounded him.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Wide World War Analyst (Telegraph Special Service)

Disclosure that the Nazis have developed new warplanes for use against the British, including a sub-sonic bomber capable of operating from a height of 40,000 feet, lends substance to Berlin's threat last week that Germany is preparing to launch unprecedented air-raids over England.

There's no reason to doubt that this threat accurately describes one of the fuhrer's objectives and that he is getting set for the assault. To my mind, however, that doesn't tell the whole story, for the indications are that we also may expect a terrific dog-fight for supremacy of the air over western Europe.

The steadily increasing British and American strength has put the Nazi chief on the spot—and a nasty one it is. The Anglo-Yankee combination already holds superiority (though not "supremacy") in the air, and he must answer this all challenge to domination—for two reasons:

1. His vital industrial centers are being devastated systematically by Royal Air Force and American bombing on a big scale. Moreover, his rail transport is being cut to pieces. That's a bad combination—loss of essential manufactures, and lack of transportation facilities for the supplies still available.

2. If Hitler is to protect himself against a long invasion of western Europe, he must control the air, just as the allies must control it if they are to put an expeditionary army ashore. He certainly doesn't dominate it now, and Major General Carl Spaatz, commander of U. S. Army Air Forces in Europe, declares our Flying Fortresses are the key to aerial mastery.

For long weeks now Hitler has stood by in apparent meekness and seen his resources disappear in the deluge of allied bombs; he has seen some of his proudest cities all but wiped out. Only last night a strong force of British bombers was over the great port of Bremen again, while Russian planes were strafing eastern Germany. But his meekness has been seeming and not real, for there's nothing meek about this man who would be emperor of all mankind.

The cold fact is that Hitler has had to use virtually every available warplane in his efforts to subdue the volcanic Reds. As reported in this column recently, a high allied source told me of a certainty that the Nazis are short of planes, short of gasoline and oil, and very short of pilots. Additional proof of this is seen in the fact that Marshal Rommel wasn't able to get the air support he needed for his new drive against Egypt.

German Offensive at Stalingrad at Peak of Ferocity

Battered City on Volga Still Flies Her Red Battle Banners

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH Associated Press War Editor

After three weeks of the immediate struggle on the immediate approaches to Stalingrad, the German offensive peak ferocity today against the elastic Russian defense and the Germans claimed two penetrations of the city itself.

By Russian accounts, however, the battered capital of the lower Volga region still flew her Red banners of battle, with the foe checked once more on the outskirts.

The Germans said Stalingrad had been entered in both the southern and northwestern sections.

Typical of the repeated rectifications in the semi-circle of defense was the official Russian admission that precious ground had been yielded southwest of Stalingrad but only until strength could be marshaled to stop and then blunt the new penetration.

British and Russian airmen flailed Germany from the west and the east during last night. A strong RAF force hammered anew at Bremen, important plane and submarine construction center of

Maine Starts Series Elections This Morn

(By The Associated Press)

Maine started the fall election ball rolling today, choosing a senator, governor and three house members at the close of a dull campaign that indicated a light vote and little bearing on the national political picture.

Voting in the usually Republican state started a week of balloting that will almost clean up the naming of candidates to run for the remaining 38 senate, 32 gubernatorial and 432 house seats at stake in the November 3 general elections.

Primaries will be held by both parties tomorrow in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Michigan and Wisconsin, while Connecticut Democrats hold a state nominating convention and Mississippi Democrats conduct a run-off between former Senator James O. Eastland, and Senator Wall Doxey.

Maine's first district congressional race between former Democratic Governor Louis J. Brann and Robert Hale, Republican leader of Portland and long a supporter of President Roosevelt's foreign policies, attracted the most

Dozen Mysterious Blasts Damage Speeding Train in Iowa This Morn

Creston, Ia., Sept. 14—(AP)—Twelve explosions rocked the westbound 12-car Burlington Zephyr streamline train two and a half miles east of Nodaway, Ia., at 12:20 a. m. today. Burlington officials said passengers escaped injury and damage to the train was slight.

There were about 180 passengers aboard the streamliner, which was traveling approximately 70 miles an hour when the explosions occurred, officials said.

Many of the passengers, asleep at the time, were unaware of the explosions.

The FBI at Des Moines is investigating the cause of the explosions, but James L. Dalton, head of the FBI bureau in Iowa, said the cause was not determined.

The train did not leave the track. The explosions occurred in flat, level country, and not on any incline or near a bridge.

Emergency repairs were made on the spot. The train, which left Chicago at 5:30 p. m. was due in Omaha at 1:10 a. m. and Denver at 8:20 a. m. The train was held up at Nodaway until 4:27 a. m. and arrived in Omaha at 7:37 a. m. Passengers were transferred to another train and continued on to Denver.

The damaged cars were sent back to the Burlington yards at East Aurora, Ill., for further inspection and repair.

Legislation Giving Roosevelt Control of Wages, Prices Up

Broad Bill Introduced in Senate; Hearings Begin Tomorrow

Washington, Sept. 14—(AP)—Legislation specifically authorizing President Roosevelt to stabilize wages and salaries as of August 15 and farm prices at levels not below parity was introduced today in the senate in response to the president's demand that congress act by Oct. 1 to control inflation.

Offered by Chairman Wagner (D-NY) of the banking committee and Senator Brown (D-Mich.), pilot of previous administration price control legislation, the resolution would give the president broad power to deal with all other factors involved in the cost of living.

Brown explained that the bill "does not require that prices for agricultural commodities go to parity," but that commodities now below parity would be subject to "natural economic conditions".

The bill provides that the price ceiling shall not be fixed below the higher of these two alternatives:

1. The parity price or "a comparable price" where one has been determined, or
2. The highest market price between Jan. 1 and Sept. 15, 1942.

Open Hearings Tuesday

The president could suspend section three of the price control act which prohibits the fixing of a ceiling on agricultural prices until they reach 110 per cent of parity.

In the case of other prices that figure in the cost of living, Brown said there probably would be little change made from the March levels at which Price Administrator Leon Henderson has already fixed them.

Wagner announced that the banking committee would open hearings tomorrow and that they probably would last two or three days.

In stabilizing wages and prices, Brown said the president would be authorized to take into account sub-standard conditions and to correct any "gross inequities" that might arise.

He could not, however, force agricultural prices below parity levels.

The general effect of this limitation, Brown said, would be to keep farm prices at about their present levels, since the average of these prices now is estimated at 101 per cent of parity.

In line with this idea, Brown explained, the president would be

Car, with Gunman Directing Driver, Eludes City Police

Dixon police were alert for a speeding black sedan in which two men were passengers Saturday afternoon, one reportedly armed with a revolver, which he held against the driver's head as the machine sped westward through Dixon about 3:30 on the Lincoln highway. However, the car eluded the police and no report of gangster activities had been received at police headquarters.

Mrs. Eleanor Cobb, 805 Leroy avenue, Rock Falls, telephoned the police from a farm house west of Franklin Grove, that a black sedan was speeding westward, with an armed man sitting in the back seat holding a revolver against the head of the driver. Mrs. Cobb and three friends were driving west on the Lincoln Highway and after leaving Franklin Grove, the speeding machine passed their car. She said she stopped at the first farm house and telephoned Dixon police.

Members of the department hurried to the outskirts of the city but presumably the gunman, dropped to the floor of the car when he observed the uniformed officers and managed to escape capture. At Second street and Galena avenue the police received reports that a car being driven at

Engineer Breaks Back, Leg, Arm, Fingers and Ribs in Fall of 14 Feet

Harry Rosenthal, 46, civil engineer at the Green River Ordnance plant, narrowly escaped death in a fall about 3 o'clock Sunday morning, and at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital today he was reported to have suffered a broken back, fractures of one arm and leg, several ribs and three fingers, in addition to numerous bruises.

Rosenthal, whose home is in Rockford, rooms at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. White, 230 Lincoln Way. He was reported to have arisen at about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning to go to the bathroom, but opened a screen of an open doorway and stepped out the opening, falling a distance of about 14 feet to the ground. He then crawled about 10 feet to the sidewalk and called to members of the family who found him, then summoned a physician who ordered him removed to the hospital in an ambulance. The attending physician today reported that Rosenthal was resting comfortably and it was expected that he would recover.

New York, Sept. 14—(AP)—The Berlin radio added a chapter today to the story of widespread and large-scale fighting against the axis in occupied Yugoslavia, reporting that 800 persons described as bandits had been captured and shot in "mopping up operations" in Bosnia, the mountainous western district.

Seek Missing Army Plane, With 10 Men Aboard, in Colorado

Tucson, Ariz., Sept. 14—(AP)—Search for an Army bomber, missing since Thursday night with eight officers and two enlisted men, was concentrated today in the mountains of southern Colorado.

Although a systematic search was underway all along the air route between here and Omaha, Neb., the Davis-Monthan Field public relations office said the "best bet" was a report received from W. W. Cox, tourist camp operator at Stonewall, Colo.

Cox said he heard a plane, apparently having engine trouble, in that mountain area about 2 a. m. Friday.

Planes from Lowry Field, Denver, flew over the area today, while sheriff's deputies made a ground search.

Names of the men aboard the bomber will not be released until the plane is found or all hope abandoned, the Army said.

We Can't Halt War Till Men Grow Up; Hershey

Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 14—(AP)—Major General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service, thinks the war is getting closer to married men with children and to youths of 18 and 19.

"We can't call a recess in this war until people grow up," General Hershey told New Jersey Legionnaires yesterday, referring to forecasts that the younger men would be drafted soon. "Prospects of a very large mobilization seem in the cards for next year."

He predicted that the manpower needs of global war would result in previously-deferred husbands with dependents and war production workers being called to arms.

"We will have to come to the realization that there are not enough single men, that there are not enough married men without dependents for the mobilization of, say, between ten million and thirteen million in the United States."

Deserter, Killer of Wisconsin Women Is Apprehended in West

Admits Slaying Welfare Workers; Conflicting Stories of Crime

San Maria, Calif., Sept. 14—(AP)—Vivid description of how he killed two Wisconsin social workers was contained in a lengthy confession authorities possessed today from Robert T. Bailey, 23-year-old Army deserter.

Thomas Weldon, deputy district attorney, said Bailey admitted he fatally shot Miss Neil Pietrangeli, 30, and Dorothy Baun, 32, and left their nude bodies near a roadside outside Tomah, Wis., last Monday night, after they had befriended him by giving him a ride at Madison.

"After driving down the road, I made both these women get out of the car and take off all their clothing," Bailey's confession to Weldon stated.

"At this time, they said 'Let's call the whole thing off, and I said 'no, get going.' All they said was it wouldn't do me any good, and I told them to get going, and I fired at them."

"The big one (Bailey) said he didn't know their names) was a little ahead of the little one from me, and they both fell at the same time when I fired the first time. I stood off about five yards and I shot the bigger one in the back while she was standing there."

Fired Three Shots

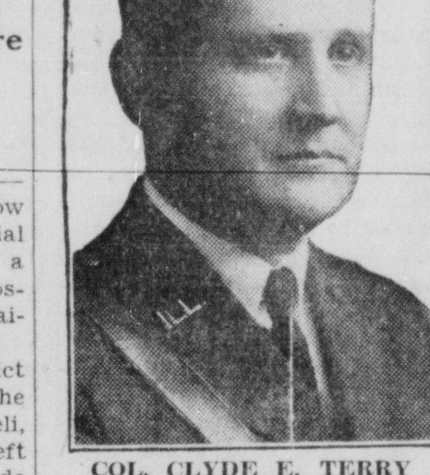

"The little one was grunting and groaning. And when she turned over, I shot her. I fired three shots altogether. I believe the first shot went through the smaller girl and also struck and knocked down the bigger girl ahead of her."

"When I shot first, they both fell and the big one never said anything. The little one screamed out: 'He's killing me! He's killing me!'"

"I am positive that the larger of the girls was dead when I left the scene, but I am not sure whether the smaller one was, as

Allies Hold Japs at Bay Before Moresby for 4th Day in Row

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Sept. 14—(AP)—Allied forces held the Japanese invader at bay 40 miles north of Port Moresby for the fourth successive day yesterday while medium bombers dropped 17 tons of bombs on the Japanese base and airfield at Lae and Flying Fortresses attacked three enemy merchant ships and a cruiser off New Guinea's coasts, a communique said today.

General MacArthur reported that patrols were active on both sides in the Owen Stanley mountain region where the Japanese have been stalled in their attempted advance on Port Moresby, but the situation "remains unchanged."

In the air war against shipping, one allied bomber blew the stern off a Japanese vessel near Selo Island in the Imlinbar island group between Australia and New Guinea and she was left in a sinking condition, the communique said.

Another ship was attacked with machinegun fire in the same raid and farther north, off the Kai Islands, still another Japanese ship was bombed with unknown results.

Flying Fortresses found a Japanese cruiser and destroyer southeast of New Britain on the eastern side of New Guinea and despite poor weather conditions and intense anti-aircraft fire attacked the cruiser. Results could not be seen, it was announced.

Allied medium bombers attacked Lae twice within a few minutes and the 17 tons of bombs dumped on the base destroyed two heavy Japanese bombers and started fires, the communique said.

JAP SOLDIERS WILY

By Murlin Spencer
Melbourne, Australia, Sept. 14—(AP)—Australian veterans who pushed the Germans at Tobruk and the Japanese at Milne Bay agreed unanimously today that the Japanese soldier is a wily fighting man more dangerous than any Hitler threw at them.

"It was like fighting tigers down in that jungle and it was a question of kill or be killed," said one Aussie who got a bullet wound in the neck at Milne Bay, in southeastern New Guinea.

"There was no quarter given and no prisoners taken on either side."

He was among the first wounded to arrive in Australia from the Milne Bay action which started Aug. 26 when a Japanese convoy

Edward Fry Meets Tragic Death Here Sunday Afternoon

Body of Popular Dixon Youth Not Recovered Until This Morn

Edward Fry, 20-year-old son of Mrs. Viola Fry, 920 Fourth street, met a tragic death by drowning in Rock river Sunday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock while hundreds of pleasure seekers at Lowell park witnessed the accident. The popular young man was a passenger in the speed boat owned and operated by Orval Gearhart when he fell over the side into the water and sank, his body never coming to the surface until it was recovered at 10:45 this morning.

The tragedy took place almost in the middle of the river and about opposite the well house in the park. The victim was riding in the stern of the Gearhart speed boat, which was making a turn, when apparently he lost his balance and fell over the side. The boat operator was unaware of the accident at the time and spectators said that Fry was standing and appeared to be walking toward the center of the craft before he fell.

The Gearhart boat, which was proceeding upstream, was making a turn when it struck a wave made by a speed boat, sideways, throwing the craft sideways. Friends of the victim of the tragedy said that he was not a good swimmer.

Sterling Firemen Help

Crews were quickly organized and started dragging operations, several boats working until late last night. Peter DeGroot, experienced river man from Peru, was summoned yesterday afternoon and went to Lowell park last night where he made an investigation. He returned this morning early with his equipment and three experienced assistants and began dragging operations. At 10:45 the body was located, lodged against a submerged tree. The Sterling fire department with its life saving equipment also came to Dixon this morning and joined with several other crews in the search.

Shortly after the accident, Life Guard Don Clark spent some time diving in an effort to locate the body without success. The tragedy, spectators said, was entirely accidental, the victim apparently losing his balance and falling over the side of the boat about a quarter mile upstream from the bathing beach. The body was removed to the Jones funeral home where an inquest was to be conducted later in the day.

Funeral Wednesday

Edward, son of Roy and Viola Fry, was born in San Bernardino, Calif., June 25, 1922, but had lived in Dixon since his babyhood, and graduated from St. Mary's parochial and the Dixon high schools. This summer he had been employed at Green River Ordnance plant. His father preceded him in death, his mother being his only survivor.

Funeral services will be held at his mother's home at 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning and at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 10:30 the Rev. Fr. T. L. Walsh officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

Sinking of 465th Ship in Western Atlantic Is Announced by Navy

(By The Associated Press)

The skipper of a Panamanian merchant vessel, whose torpedoing by a submarine off the coast of South America was announced today by the Navy, possibly saved himself from being taken prisoner aboard the undersea craft by refusing to identify himself.

When the U-boat surfaced and inquired about the master, Captain Axel Broner warned those in the lifeboat to keep silent, he said in an east coast port interview. "When they asked for me, I just wasn't there," he said. "The Germans played the game fair enough. They asked us if we had water and provisions and gave us a tin for baiting our boat. They took the second officer aboard for questioning about the ship and our destination but released him."

Since June, the Navy has announced a total of 11 ship captains made prisoner by submarines, apparently in an effort to create a shortage of skilled masters.

The sinking, late in August, brought to 465 The Associated Press tabulation of United Nations and neutral ships announced as sunk in the western Atlantic since Pearl Harbor.

All 46 members of the crew were rescued safely.

Most Serious Fighting for British in Madagascar Still Ahead of Them

London, Sept. 14—(AP)—The British announced today the capture of Maevatanana, 150 miles by road northwest of Tananarive, capital of Madagascar, and information reaching some military quarters here indicated that advance forces had pushed on to within 100 miles of the Capital.

By this account the British had covered fully half of the distance to the Capital—230 miles air line from the northwest Madagascar port of Majunga, one of three landings which the British made last Thursday in an effort to prevent use of the French island by the axis.

Week-end reports placing the British 70 miles or less from Tananarive were unsubstantiated.

A communique said the forces pushing into Madagascar from three directions were making good progress, and that besides capturing Maevatanana, advance detachments were moving on across the mountains to the southeast toward Andriha, about 125 miles north of the Capital on another road.

The most serious fighting for the British possibly was still ahead of them, for the 4,000-foot plateau on which Tananarive is located is said to be the best defended area of Vichy-controlled Madagascar. It is approached by steep, winding roads.

Marine Sergeant's Story of Situation in Solomons Is Told

Navy Department Gives Out Account of Landing of Patrol

(The navy department at Washington released Saturday the following account of a marine patrol action in the Solomons written by a marine corps combat correspondent.)

By SERGEANT J. W. HURLBUT Guadalcanal, Aug. 19 (delayed).—One of the most determined and effective patrol actions yet attempted against the Japanese forces remaining on Guadalcanal has just been completed.

Col. W. J. Whaling of Washington, D. C., directed the action, in which several companies of marines drove down on Japanese concentration points and inflicted heavy losses on the enemy.

The plan of attack was as follows:

Company "X," commanded by Capt. William L. Hawkins of Bridgeport, Conn., moved along the beach road that leads from Kukum.

Company "Y," commanded by Capt. B. W. Hardy, Jr. of Toledo, O., was transported in boats to the Jap camp. Col. Whaling accompanied this group.

Company "Z," under Capt. Lyman Spurlock of Lincoln, Neb., penetrated deep into the jungle and assaulted the fortified enemy positions.

Company "Z" made the main contact and wiped out the Jap forces. Other companies helped make the action a success by keeping the Jap troops occupied until Capt. Spurlock's men had maneuvered into attacking position.

It Was Plenty Hot

The attack was scheduled for this morning but Company Z had its first action late yesterday when it came upon a Jap patrol in the jungle. Six Japanese were killed. There were no marine casualties.

According to plan, an intensive artillery barrage was laid down on the Japanese camp. Shortly the barrage lifted and Company Z moved from its overnight bivouac to the Jap right flank. This force was pinned down immediately by heavy machine gun fire and sniping from the enemy line.

(Note to Gen. R. L. Dening: I was with this bunch, boss, and it was plenty hot. I took cover behind a log that seemed no bigger than a tooth pick, with bullets smacking into the other side and kicking up dust a foot to my right.)

Greatest difficulty was in picking out the enemy firing points, so expert was their camouflage.

Meanwhile Company Z had begun closing in from its bivouac several hundred yards up in the hills. They soon encountered resistance, and from then on were almost constantly in action. They fought their way through Japanese outposts, and Capt. Spurlock calmly organized his company front and established a firing line against the main Japanese position.

Enemy forces were well dug in. They had trenches and machine gun nests and many snipers in the trees.

One of our lieutenants and his runner, a private, were active in reconnaissance work, going well out ahead to scout enemy positions. While they were moving in the open our observers saw the private shot and killed by a sniper. The lieutenant bent over a private to give aid and was also hit.

Marine Gunner Edward S. Rust of Detroit said he saw the lieutenant, although mortally wounded, fire on the sniper with his pistol. The Jap was found dead a few feet away with two slugs in his body.

The Japanese automatic weapons were described as being of three sizes. One was a light gun, presumably .25 caliber; the second size was approximately that of our .30 caliber, while the third was a heavy gun, reportedly about .60 caliber.

Three machine gun nests held up the advance for a short time. Gunner Rust performed what seemed an almost impossible feat by using a rifle grenade to knock out one nest from a distance of far beyond the usual grenade range.

Private Holds Japs Back

The other two nests were knocked out by marines charging under the protective fire of rifles

One of the riflemen, Pvt. Nicholas Sileo of Brooklyn, N. Y., stayed at his post and kept blazing away until eight Japs were chased out of the nest he was covering.

Shortly after the main resistance was broken, the enemy tried to effect a counterattack. Capt. Spurlock anticipated the action by establishing a firing line, brandishing bayonets and yelling at the top of their lungs. They were mowed down by fire of rifles and automatic weapons.

A volunteer accompanying one of our companies was Sgt. C. C. Arndt of Okolona, Miss., one of three survivors of the patrol which was sent on a night mission to the Matanikoo camp several days ago. Arndt killed two Japanese that night. Tuesday night he killed two more, and on Wednesday he accounted for six by sniping.

William P. Liddle, pharmacist's mate, third class, of Winding Gulf, W. Va., carried the navy insignia to glory in the encounter. Liddle went everywhere unmindful of enemy fire, caring for the wounded.

Capt. Spurlock reports that 4 of his men were killed and 11 wounded. At least 60 of the enemy were killed and some prisoners taken.

Of the other companies taking part, Co. "Y," in boats, started the trek up the shore line before dawn, the boats reached their rendezvous without incident, and the company disembarked and went into patrol formation.

The boats were under machine gun fire from the beach. Col. Whaling in the lead boat saw a Jap run down the shore in front of the enemy camp, wildly raising a rising sun flag. Col. Whaling, no mean rifle shot, picked up the Jap and pulled the trigger. The rising sun went down for the count, and so did the flag waver.

Co. "Y" cleared out the few Japanese posts they encountered. They reported they killed four or five and suffered no losses of their own.

Shortly after 4 o'clock in the afternoon, observers saw the flares rise high into the sky that meant "operation successful." The enemy camps were cleaned out, and the remnants of Japanese resistance in this area were scattered.

Pocketbooks Make Big Hit With Men In Armed Forces

PocketBOOKS, Inc. have continued to publish five books a month since February due to the demand throughout the country for more and more of these handy-size, quarter books. Men in the service who never found time to read at home are enthusiastically discovering PocketBOOKS and buying them by the thousands at the Post Exchanges.

This month's publications include "The Strategy of Terror" by Edmond Taylor a recent best seller. This is the story of propaganda as practiced by the nazis in countries they have already conquered—or those on which they have designs.

THE POCKETMYSTERY READER edited by Lee Wright, follows in pattern THE POCKET READER and contains "The Farewell Murder" by Dashiell Hammett, short stories, articles, plays, poems, true crime and puzzles.

Dorothy Sayers, Erle Stanley Gardner, Saki, Stephen Leacock, Edmund Pearson and many other mystery and detective story writers are represented.

Zane Grey is introduced to the PocketBOOK list with THE SPIRIT OF THE BORDER, a novel of the old West during the time of the Revolution.

THE CHINESE PARROT by Earl Derr Biggers features Charlie Chan as the detective. This with THE POCKETMYSTERY READER make up the quota of mystery stories for the month.

Van Loon's THE STORY OF MANKIND is reissued. This is history in one of its most pleasant forms for reading. It begins with the early Greeks and Romans and continues to the present day, making excellent background reading for the present war.

It is interesting to note in a recent survey conducted by PocketBOOKS that the favorites with the men in the service were, with one major exception, pretty much the same as the favorite PocketBOOKS among the general public. This exception is THE POCKETDICTIONARY AND VOCABULARY BUILDER. This was by far the top best seller among PocketBOOKS.

PUBLISHER'S WEEKLY, the trade journal for the book world, has reported from time to time that the men in camps are buying books of self-improvement, and the dictionary obviously falls into this class. Probably all the unaccustomed letter-writing has made the soldier self-conscious about his spelling.

Mysteries, as always are great favorites with the armed forces. Ellery Queen and Erle Stanley Gardner definitely lead all the rest. In the following list, detective stories have not been included, as the various titles sold rather evenly. "The New Adventures of Ellery Queen", "The Tragedy of X", "The Adventures of Ellery Queen" (all by Ellery Queen) and "The Case of the Lucky Legs", "The Case of the Caretaker's Cat", "The Case of the Counterfeit Eye (all three by Erle Stanley Gardner) vied for seventh place on the list.

Exclusive of detective stories, this is the order of popularity in the Army camps, as judged by sales to the men in canteens and post exchanges:

1. THE POCKETDICTIONARY AND VOCABULARY BUILDER.
2. NANA by Emile Zola.
3. BELIEVE IT OR NOT by Robert L. Ripley.
4. THE POCKETBOOK OF BONERS.
5. THE POCKETQUIZ BOOK by Slifer and Crittenden.
6. THE POCKETBOOK OF VERSE edited by M. E. Speare.
7. THE POCKETBOOK OF SHORT STORIES edited by M. E. Speare.
8. HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE by Dale Carnegie.
9. LOST HORIZON by James Hilton.
10. THE ART OF THINKING by Ernest Dimmet.
11. WUTHERING HEIGHTS by Emily Bronte.
12. THE BEST OF DAMON RUNYON.
13. THE POCKETREADER edited by Philip Van Doren Stern.
14. MICROBE HUNTERS by Paul de Kruif.
15. THE POCKETBOOK OF MYSTERY STORIES edited by Lee Wright.

Magnuson Thinks Japs Took Kiska to Attack Russia

Tacoma, Wash. —(AP)—Rep. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.), recently returned from an inspection of Alaskan defenses, said he believed the Japanese attacked the Aleutians so as to use Kiska as a base for assault on Siberia and as an obstacle to the lend-lease route to Russia by way of Bering sea.

Speaking at a civic meeting Magnuson said that "from the American standpoint the situation in the Aleutians is in good shape."

"I do not believe the Japanese had any intentions of using the Aleutians as stepping stones to Alaska. Our greatest loss was the weather stations so necessary to our military plans. Efforts of the Japanese to obtain a foothold in the Aleutians proved so costly their offensive wings are clipped."

Tax-Limitation Law Throughout Nation Aim of Federation

Chicago, Sept. 14—(AP)—President Karl H. Smith of the National Federation of Property Owner Associations said today his organization probably would recommend a nation-wide tax limitation law at a conference here this week.

The meeting opens today. Rent control, real estate taxation and other problems affecting property owners were scheduled for consideration.

If the delegates do not approve a nation-wide tax limitation law, Smith predicted, they will at least recommend tax limitation for communities falling under the rent control law.

"There is a limitation on cost of practically everywhere except in local government spending," Smith said. "Of course, in some communities, local governments have maintained sane economic standards, but there are all too many who have been ridiculously out of line."

120,000 Catholics in Prayer for Victory

Chicago, Sept. 14—(AP)—"Grant that out of their labors, hardships and sufferings there may come to them and to us and to all the world a blessed victory, new life, wider freedoms, a better day...."

So Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch, Chicago archdiocese head, in solemn rites of the Holy Name Holy Hour, led 120,000 Catholics in prayer last night for American fighting men, for those who already had lost their lives on bloody battlefields, and for victory.

Before a brilliant, candlelit altar and a colorful background of the moving, ancient liturgical pageantry of the Catholic church, devout pledges of allegiance to Savior and flag swelled from Chicago's giant lake-front amphitheater, Soldier Field.

New research in the production of liquid motor fuels and lubricants from coal by a process not hitherto investigated in the United States has been authorized in a recent appropriation by Congress to the Bureau of Mines.

Less Than 100 Civil War Veterans at Meet of Grand Encampment

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 14 —(AP)—About 75 aged veterans of the Civil War who were able to make the trip here turned today to business sessions of the 76th annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

They will be welcomed officially tonight by officials of the city, state and organizations affiliated with the G. A. R.

A strange mixture of blue, white and khaki uniforms was noticeable yesterday as the encampment opened with flag raising ceremonies at the Indianapolis Service Men's Center. National Commander George A. Gay, 93-year-old Nashua, N. H., veteran, dressed in blue, pulled the flag to the top of the pole, aided by a khaki-clad soldier and blue-uniformed sailor of World War II.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Substance" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 13.

The Golden Text was: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations" (Psalms 135: 13).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear" (Heb. 11: 1, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Matter, with its mortality, cannot be substantial if Spirit is substantial and eternal. Which ought to be substance to us,—the erring, changing, and dying, the mutable and mortal, or the unerring, immutable, and immortal? A New Testament writer plainly describes faith, a quality of mind, as 'the substance of things hoped for'" (p. 279).

SALARY LOANS FOR WOMEN WITH JOBS

No wage assignment taken—No endorsers needed—Just a regular income so that you can repay in small monthly installments

Do you need some extra cash? Would you like to pay off old bills as part of your wartime financial program? This advertisement tells about a simple plan which is helping many men and women with their present day money problems. Suppose you need $100 for an emergency or to pay off debts. You can get the money in a quick, simple transaction. And you needn't even come to the Household office to apply for the money. Just mail the coupon below and we will send complete information.

You may repay your loan on a regular monthly payment plan. At the end of a definite time you are entirely in the clear. The payment plan thus becomes a personal debt paying program. The cost of this service is reasonable. Suppose you borrow $100 and repay in six monthly installments of $18.18 each, a total of $109.08. The cost of your loan is just $9.08. A $50 loan repaid in six monthly installments of $9.09 each, a total of $54.54, costs only $4.54.

This service has been especially designed for folks with jobs. Many people have no car, furniture or other security on which to borrow. And they hate to ask friends to sign notes. Salary loans give these people an opportunity to borrow on earning ability and willingness to repay. When you get a salary loan you merely give us your personal note. We take no wage assignment of any kind. No endorsers are required.

We make many loans on other plans. The principal requirement is a job or other source of income. Even when making car and furniture loans, we consider character and regular income far more important than the actual value of your security.

Loans for many purposes
You may use a Household loan to pay a doctor or dentist bill, insurance, installment contracts, old store bills, car repairs, union fees, a training course, tools, moving expense, coal for winter—and for expenses of many other kinds.
You may repay your loan on almost any plan you wish. The table shows how loans may be repaid in 2 to 24 payments. The sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. Look in the table now for the loan you need. See how you may repay out of monthly income.

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2 1/2% per month on unpaid balances. This rate is substantially below the maximum permitted by the Small Loan Law. Lower operating costs permit us to give our customers the advantage of a lower rate. Compare rates and costs before you borrow.

If you can make good use of a loan, send coupon now. There's no obligation.

TEN-THOUSAND WOMEN ARE TO BE ENLISTED IN WAVE RANKS UNDER V-10 PROGRAM

Enlistment of women under Class V-10 of the Waves—Women's Reserve, U. S. Naval Reserve—will begin this week, it was announced today by Captain Edmund Spence Root, Director of Naval Officer Procurement in Chicago.

All women candidates should make application by mail to one of the following offices of Naval Officer Procurement, stating their age, education and marital status, Capt. Root announced. Naval Officer Procurement offices receiving applications are: Board of Trade Building, Chicago; Book Tower Building, Detroit, Michigan; Roanoke Building, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Missouri-Pacific Building, St. Louis, Missouri; Central Armory, Cleveland, Ohio; Finance Building, Kansas City, Missouri; Old Federal Building, Des Moines, Iowa; and at the new office at 429 North Pennsylvania avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana, which opens tomorrow (Tuesday).

Officers cannot interview applicants except by appointment, Captain Root explained.

Candidates for the enlisted ranks of the Waves, if eligible, are furnished application blanks after which appointments for interviews and aptitude tests will be made. Lieut. Mary Daily, first woman officer in the Ninth Naval District and in charge of Waves recruiting, said that more than 2,000 letters of application have already been received. The first quota of 320 enlistees for the Ninth Officer Procurement District must be filled by October 8, she announced.

Women who miss out in the first quota will be considered for subsequent selections, it was announced.

Training Centers

Ten thousand women from throughout the country will be enlisted in the ranks under the V-10 program. The first group of 1,600 enlisted women will be trained at Indiana University, the University of Wisconsin and Oklahoma A. and M. College. All the women will start their training as apprentice seamen and receive ratings and pay commensurate with their experience and ability at the conclusion of their training.

At the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin, 500 women will take a four months' course in radio communications. Indiana, University, Bloomington, Indiana, and Oklahoma A. and M., Stillwater, Oklahoma will be used to train 600 and 500 yeomen, respectively.

Pay of enlisted women in the Navy will be exactly the same as that of men in the same rating. While in training enlisted women will receive $50 a month plus maintenance.

At the conclusion of their training, pay will depend on the rating they obtain. The base pay scale for the enlisted personnel is as follows:

Rating—	Monthly Base Pay
Apprentice seaman	$ 50
Seaman, second class	54
Seaman, first class	66
Petty officer, third class	78
Petty officer, second class	96
Petty officer, first class	114
Chief petty officer, acting appointment	126
Chief petty officer, permanent appointment	138

Petty Officers
Yeomen, radiomen and storekeepers rate as petty officers. Since most enlisted women will live outside naval facilities they will receive rental and food allowances amounting to approximately $82.50 a month in addition to base pay.

Women who have special knowledge in civilian life as general clerks, secretaries, stenographers, duplicating machine operators, typists, file clerks, bookkeepers, warehouse clerks, stock clerks, radio operators, teletype operators, simplex and multiplex operators are especially desired, according to Lt. Comdr. S. A. Bishop, Assistant Director of Naval Officer Procurement in Chicago.

Candidates for V-10 must be high school graduates between 20 through 35 and of good health. Minimum height and weight requirements are five feet and 95 pounds. Eyes must meet Navy minimum standards of 12/20 and at least 18 teeth are the minimum dental requirements.

Applicants may be married but shall not be wives of men in the armed forces. Married Waves may have no children under 18.

SOUTH DIXON UNIT
Mrs. Charles Kreger was hostess at the September meeting for the South Dixon Home Bureau unit on Tuesday. Mrs. Day Welty, chairman, conducted the business meeting, and Miss Marian Simpson presented the major lesson, "Up-to-Date Vitamins." Ten members and two visitors were present.

Mrs. Jones assisted the hostess at the refreshment table. The next meeting will be held Oct. 13.

Ruby Simpson, Roy F. Powers, Are Wed at Polo

Only members of the immediate families of the bride pair were present to hear Miss Ruby Simpson of Polo and Roy Frederick Powers of Kewanee exchange their marriage vows Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Simpson at Polo. The Rev. Clifford J. Pierson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the single ring ceremony at 4 o'clock.

White gladioli and high baskets with trailing vines banked an improvised altar before a bay window in the living room. Large bouquets of all-white flowers were used throughout the rooms.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a blue suit with brown accessories, and a corsage of orchids. Her only sister, Mrs. Kenneth Cornish of Waukegan, as matron of honor, wore an American beauty dress with a spray of gardenias at her shoulder. Walter Powers of Cambridge, Ill., served as best man for his brother.

A green and white centerpiece decorated the refreshment table for an informal reception, following the ceremony. Relatives were present from Cambridge and Waukegan.

Mrs. Powers has been teaching in school in West Aurora. The bridegroom, son of Mrs. James Powers of Kewanee, is superintendent of the Kewanee Boiler corporation.

After a wedding trip through the Smoky Mountain national park, the couple will be at home in Kewanee.

WESTERN VACATION

Mrs. Winnegene Knapp returned yesterday from a ten-day vacation through Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota, spending some time at Estes National park and visiting the Black Hills, the Badlands, and other points.

PRAIRIEVILLE CIRCLE

Members of Prairieville Social circle have planned an all-day meeting and scramble luncheon for Wednesday. Those attending are asked to come prepared to sew.

TO NEW YORK CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bacharach and twin sons of New York City returned east today, after a visit with Miss Carrie Rosenthal and Samuel Bacharach.

BRIDGE FOURSOME

Mrs. Gerald Jones entertained her bridge foursome at luncheon and contract today.

Commandettes Do Their Bit to Aid USO

Worn with selling tickets, ballyhooing hot dogs and soda pop, and keeping a firm eye on endless details, young women who call themselves "Commandettes", are proud of the showing their week end made toward substantially aiding their town's USO drive. Final figures were not available when this story went to the composing room, but Mrs. Cleford Moran's committee tossed aside their party-giving responsibilities last evening, happy in the assurance that a nice sum was realized from their two-day event.

Thirty-four Camp Grant soldiers were special guests at the dancing party at which the Commandettes were hosting Saturday evening in the Elks club ball room. The trip to and from Rockford was made in a bus from the Dixon Transit line, and before their departure from Dixon, a number of the men in khaki were entertained at the Manhattan cafe by their dancing partners.

Harry Blakeley's Campus Favorites from Rockford entertained the dance-goers from 9:30 until 1. Le Grand Cannon, finance chairman of the Dixon USO unit, was assisting the dance hostesses and saw to it that the party plans progressed smoothly.

Yesterday afternoon, the Commandettes were entertaining with a Plae Dae at Assembly park, where refreshment stands and concessions formed a colorful midway. The bingo game, with Grant Biddle acting as caller, was perhaps the most popular pastime of all.

Last evening, the young women sponsors, weary though still enthusiastic, were discussing plans of continuing their Commandette organization. Most of the committee members were former classmates at Dixon high school.

TO FLORIDA

John H. Baumgartner of Mendota will leave tomorrow for Miami, Fla., where he will spend the winter with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Reese. The Henry Kohls, with whom he has spent the summer, entertained at dinner in his honor recently, including guests from Mendota and Ohio in their party.

CAMP FIRE

Young people of the Brethren church are planning a camp fire and wiener roast for Wednesday evening at the Ephraim Gerdes home, one mile east of Dixon. L. W. Miller, formerly county superintendent of schools, will be the speaker.

The Chinese drivers in the United States have a motor vehicle accident rate 40 per cent lower than that for the nation as a whole, with full account taken of the number of miles driven. The Japanese, on the other hand, have a motor vehicle death rate more than twice that of the Chinese, and 20 per cent above the national average.

Cooperation, Children, Cooking, Is Successful Formula for Marriage

Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Arba Andrus of Waukegan, Ill., who has been married 54 years, suggests one shouldn't "underrate the part about good cooking" in working out a formula for a successful marriage.

Her opinion was given Saturday at the third annual meeting of the National Golden Wedding Band where the consensus among 25 white-haired couples who have been married for more than 50 years was that the successful marriage formula was "cooperation, children and good cooking."

Gov. Green Will Address Women's Defense Council

Expansion of current wartime activities and proposals for further efforts will be discussed at an all day session of representatives of 700,000 Illinois women at the Palmer House, Friday, under the sponsorship of the Women's Division, Illinois State Council of Defense.

Gov. Green, chairman of the council, will open the program at 10:30 a. m.

Mrs. Frederic W. Upham and Rep. Bernice T. Van der Vries, co-chairmen of the division, said that 26 vice chairmen of the division, representing most of the state's largest and most influential women's organizations, and nine regional representatives will attend.

In addition to the co-chairmen, those who will speak are James R. Hawkinson, regional consumer executive, OPA; Joseph T. Meek, executive secretary, Illinois Federation of Retail Associations; Dr. M. H. Kronenberg, chief, division of industrial hygiene, state department of public health; Dr. Robert E. Browne, director, extension service, University of Illinois; Robert Ticken, co-chairman, salvage committee, Illinois State Council of Defense; Mrs. T. K. Rinaker, field representative, women's division; and Karl M. Kohn, assistant director and public relations manager of the council.

Methods used to enroll club members in activities of local councils, nutrition, consumer interest centers, promotional programs, publicity, and other problems will be discussed. Illinois, with 68 consumer interest centers, leads the nation in that phase of protecting the health and well being of those on the home front. Mrs. Upham and Rep. Van der Vries said that this was the beginning of a program eventually to place a consumer interest committee in every community where there is a council of defense.

Every field of women's activities, from home to factory, and from Victory Gardens to civil protection, is covered by the women's division. Emphasis is placed on obtaining volunteers for defense work, consumer interest and nutrition committees, diet and health problems as affected by wartime budgets, and the task of coordinating existing agencies.

Figures for 1941 show that while automobile deaths from collisions were up 24 per cent, and non-collision deaths registered a 21 per cent increase, pedestrian deaths increased only 7 per cent over 1940.

A Thought for Today

A wrathful man stirreth up strife; but he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife.—Proverbs 15:1.

Anger is momentary madness, so control your passion or it will control you.—Horace.

This Might Be a Fable

This could be the fable of the ensign's father who demanded a B card. In that event, it could be told as follows:

Once upon a time, on the eastern seaboard of the United States of America, there lived a man in early middle life whose beloved son was graduated from a famous college in the midst of a terrible war. This man's son enlisted in the Naval Reserve, and immediately upon graduation he was commissioned an ensign. And went away to fight for his country.

Now this father and his wife, were very proud of their son, and of their son's desire to help save his country from destruction and although they were too old to fight, themselves, they too wanted to help, so when their country decreed that those who lived on the eastern seaboard must confine themselves to four gallons of gasoline a week, to save transportation for our war purposes and to have rubber for the use of fighting men, this father and mother consented willingly, never dreaming of trying to chisel a few more gallons of gas by making a fuss about not being able to get to their summer camp.

But soon this father, as he waited for the omnibus to take him to his work, noticed that almost every automobile that passed had a B card or a C card, permitting its owner to have extra gasoline. His subordinates, including some who lived on his own street, had such cards. Then he discovered that men who worked in defense plants were being given extra allowances, once a month, so they could take pleasure trips to nearby cities to which there were frequent, ample connections by fast, luxurious trains at low cost. He discovered that these workmen were claiming such extra gasoline as a matter of right, and were getting away with their demands, so that only this father, and a few others, who also were intelligent enough to know that their country was losing the war, were co-operating to save gasoline and rubber.

So this father himself went to his rationing board, and asked for an A card, and was given one, so that he, too, could burn up more gasoline and wear out his tires faster, like everybody else.

This could be a fable, but it is not. It is the true story of one out of hundreds of thousands who have refused to remain goats for a system in which local rationing boards are failing to co-operate to win this war.

In rationing, Washington has tried to preserve democracy by working through local boards. Some such groups do their parts. And are intensely critical of every demand for special favors. Others are "good fellows," and nobody loves them more than Hitler and Hirohito. Why not? They are playing the axis game. We need scrap. The drive for scrap iron and steel has not produced the necessary results. We are running millions of tons short. For every ton of scrap that we fail to provide, two tons of finished steel can not be made for ships, tanks, guns, plane engines and other material of war.

Every pound that can be dug out of cellars, garrets, garages and similar hiding places will help.

Double Action Proposed

On Labor Day as the public knows so well, the President asked Congress to fix ceilings on farm prices by October 1, or else he himself would make use of powers which he believes are conferred upon him by reason of the war. As to wages, another element in the threat of inflation, the President suggested that their control be left to him. "This I will do," said Mr. Roosevelt, regarding wage "stabilization."

Judging by comment of some representatives and senators, the President might well have made his alternative known to congressional leaders in private conversation, rather than in a radio broadcast to the world at large. After all, congress had been leaving the control of farm prices to the parity system and its developments, all of which the President signed as bills enacted by congress. Yet the address made it appear that congress has been entirely to blame for the threat of inflation, whereas only half of the situation has rested in the hands of congress at any time since it delegated wage "stabilization" powers to the President.

There is a tendency in men, when they hear a threat, to "wait and see." "Grievous words stir up anger," particularly when they are spoken in public. Members of congress are more inclined to be philosophic about such things than are many others, but still they may be tempted to try to do something about it.

At the moment, it appears that congress will consider a plan to take charge of wage fixing as well as farm price fixing, and to put through a bill "stabilizing" both. In that case, congress would have on hand two hot potatoes instead of only one.

Already the President has taken a step which, intentionally or not, might be calculated to forestall this congressional seizure of power. He has outlawed double time for labor performed on Sundays in war industries.

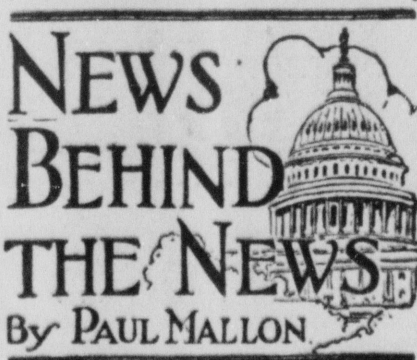

Altogether, it appears something will be accomplished all around.

New Army

The 1942 Army isn't what the 1917 Army was. Undoubtedly it is better. Probably anybody who suggested that the boys aren't tough should do so by wireless from a safe point. But there are differences.

For example, there is the soldier out in San Jose, Calif., who asked the police to protect him from girls who telephone so much he can't find time to work. A devoted doughboy, probably an efficient one and a candidate for stripes or shoulder bars. But the old Army didn't feature soldiers who needed police protection from the girls.

On numerous occasions the Germans have been checked. Why not do it once and for all—and throw the stub away?

Washington, Sept. 14—In an academic way, without providing a public exhibition, the Baruch report fairly well paddled Leon Henderson and the other negative-thinking, crack-down, doom-peddlers, who have been filling the air and the newspapers, for nine long months, with their "can't" chants.

Henderson, for instance, has been talking and thinking in terms of 20,000,000 civilian cars going off the road, leaving only 7,000,000 in operation. He is not the worst of the negating necromancers, most of whom have kept their identity anonymous, while publicity predicting government seizure of cars and tires.

They were inclined to look at the motor car through 20-year-old glasses as a luxury. They saw only trouble ahead to be met by further and further denials by the people.

Now comes the Baruch report, like a ray of realistic light. It looks straight at the civilian automobile as a transportation necessity, without which we will lose the war.

It proposes a policy to keep cars running, and holds out hopes that they will continue indefinitely in service, if rubber use is conserved by gas-rationing until synthetic rubber production comes in big. It is neither rosy nor melancholy. It says we "can."

One official exception to this between-the-lines lashing was implied by the report. In general, it took somewhat the same line as WPA Transportation Coordinator Eastman's unpublished and suppressed report on the same problem.

Eastman is czar over everything on wheels in this country now, including the automobile, although no one seems to know it, particularly the Office of Price Administration. His report was lost in the shuffle of inter-bureau conferences, as well as his authority over motor cars.

The OPA just stepped in and took over. Primarily, Eastman wanted to give gas for essential needs, and he wanted a general overall control plan, such as Baruch has suggested.

The Baruch report thus seemed to point an unobserved finger in the general direction of Eastman, who already has the authority (he got it by executive order weeks ago), as well as the proper theories, (the Baruch committee had access to his unpublished report), to direct policy-making on auto use.

Of course, the rubber "czar" Baruch suggested would be a rubber production business man concerned only with that phase.

They are saying national gas rationing will be put into effect in a few weeks, but they mean a few months. Not only the printing of rationing cards will hold them back, they will need a new and different system than that in effect in the east, and it will have to be worked out carefully.

Basically, the eastern system gives four gallons a week to everyone who has a car, whether or not he has any real use for either the gas or the car. This is a passable arrangement in the east, where distances are short, bus transportation good. It leaves enough gas for essential business needs.

Out in the great open spaces, the problem is different. Four gallons is not enough for anyone who must go any place, and too much for the small town residents who live within a few blocks of everything.

Need should be the only yardstick. A new system will have to be instituted for fairer distribution.

A good guess is that this may take 60 or 90 days.

The automobile Association of the American Automobile Association (representative of the motorist) that the Baruch report is a "realistic document" is a fairly good indication that it will meet little resistance from the automobile owner.

The AAA was the first organization to come forward publicly, with a protest against the government tendency to consider the automobile a luxury, and urging an affirmative policy (advocated earlier in this column) to provide as much auto transportation as possible.

Now if Baruch will only straighten out the confusing draft policy and speeches, and level them down to an affirmative basis of meeting the utmost requirements of civilian life, consonant with the necessity of doubling the size of the Army, and do the same thing with the economic policy and production, the whole of war government will be switched from the initial "crack-down, doom is coming" negations (which were necessary in the first phase of a hurried war start) to a common-sense, affirmative, efficient, permanent war basis.

Advanced airplane engines weight only one pound per horsepower as compared with 10 pounds per horsepower for most automobile engines.

BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Michael R. Kreisch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kreisch, 723 Broadway street, Dixon, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant at Tyndall Field, Fla., where he is stationed. His promotion followed the completion of five weeks of intensive training and study as an expert aerial gunner at the Florida army gunnery school.

Pvt. G. Vincent Ridenhour, 66 Lincoln avenue, this city, was among a large group of candidates who last week completed a special course of instruction in the motor transport school at Fort Sheridan, Ill., and was awarded his diploma.

Pvt. Orville J. Bradley, son of Mrs. David Bradley, 1043 Highland avenue, this city, has been enrolled in a special course of instruction at the signal corps school at Camp Murphy, Fla. Pvt. Bradley was selected for this specialized training on the bases of his aptitude.

Robert C. Myers, Second Class Seaman, has returned to Chicago, after spending a three-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Myers of Fourth street. He has been transferred from New York to a United Air liner at Chicago. His parents met him in Chicago and accompanied him there upon his return to duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter May have received word that their son, Harold J. May, has been promoted from the rank of Sergeant to Staff Sergeant. He enlisted in the Army, Sept. 6, 1940; was promoted to the rank of First Class Private, Dec. 17, 1940; to Sergeant, Feb. 9, 1942; and to Staff Sergeant, Sept. 7, 1942. He is stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helfrich have received word that their son, William, has completed a course of instruction at Casey Jones School of Aeronautics at Newark, N. J., where he was graduated Sept. 3, and is now located in Buffalo, N. Y. His new address is: Pvt. William F. Helfrich, Hdq. Tr. Detachment A. A. F.—T. C. Curtis Wright Service School, 207 Delaware avenue, Buffalo, N. Y., Class 6.

Mrs. Henry O. Lowry has received word that her husband has been promoted to the rank of Corporal. His new address is: Co. K, 314 Infantry, A.P.O. 79, Camp Blanding, Florida.

Robert E. Ringler left Saturday morning for Camp Grant, Rockford, to be inducted into the Army. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ringler of rural route 2, Dixon.

Pvt. Charles L. Speaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Speaker of Sterling, has completed a four-month course at the Technical school at Keesler Field, in Mississippi, and was graduated Sept. 1. He has been assigned to the Glenn L. Master Training school, Baltimore, Md., where he is studying the B-26 bomber. Friends may address mail at him at the following address: AAFSTD Sq., 6 Ft. 6 Middle River Branch, Baltimore, Md. For more than two years, he operated "Leo's Shop," across from the Dixon high school.

Tri-Weekly Collection of Cream To Be Tried

Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Tri-weekly instead of daily collection of cream, to effect conservation of transportation equipment and supplies, will start today in certain parts of Illinois. M. G. Van Buskirk, secretary of the Illinois Creamery Committee announced yesterday.

The action was taken with the approval of the War Production Board, and will begin in that part of the state north of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad line from Vincennes, Ind., to St. Louis, Mo., with collections on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Farmers in the southern part of the state will be notified of collection days and effective dates soon.

Illinois is the first state in the Union where the plan will be put into effect with government sanction.

Accident Is Fatal to Chanute Field Soldier

Farmer City, Ill., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Sgt. Paul L. Deabler, a Chanute Field soldier from Centralia, Ill., was injured fatally in an automobile collision three miles southeast of here yesterday. Sgt. Edwin C. Magolski, South Milwaukee, Wis., was injured seriously in the accident which occurred when Deabler's coupe and an ice truck driven by George Satterfield of Farmer City, collided. The soldiers were returning from Decatur.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Sept. 14.—Do you mind another whirl at the subject of the innocence of the German people in these periodic World wars of theirs?

Some of the serious, but soft, thinkers are always ready to argue that the common people of Germany are peace loving and kind by nature, and go to war only at the orders of their masters and, therefore, when beaten, should be helped up, dusted off and allowed to remain a nation.

If that is the case, then what about the people of the United States? Do these thinkers undertake to say that this country, too, was driven to this war by a set of masters and that Americans have no responsibility for their conduct as a nation?

I am ready for the argument that our case is different because we are, as we say, a democracy and make our own decisions in all important matters. The answer is that the Germans, as a big and strongly nationalistic nation, must take an adult responsibility in the world. It was up to them to adopt a form of government and create leaders who would respect the rights of others and this they failed to do. Twice in the last quarter century their nation has started World wars. The responsibility is theirs and it need not be conceded that they were dispirited in their leadership either in 1914 or this time. When their might was rising under Hitler they were bulging with muscle, truculent, arrogant and confident, and if there was any reluctance in them it wasn't enough to prevent this disaster to other peoples who submitted to bitter humiliation to appease them.

The beaten Germans of 1918 and after do not present a convincing portrait. It is legitimate to ask what the attitude of the German people would have been if they had won that war. Would they then have regretted their conquests over Belgium, France, Italy, Russia, Britain and the United States? Isn't it more likely that they would have considered themselves, in their hearts, members of a master race with a right to rule their victims with the same brutality that they have shown the Poles and French this time?

One complaint against such thinking is that if the German people are given to understand that defeat means obliteration as a nation they will fight to the death. This would prolong the struggle and cost lives on both sides. But it isn't necessary to tell them this, nor will they believe any propaganda to the contrary from the allied nations. They know that in defeat this time the German nation will cease to exist, for the brunt of the land fighting has been borne by soviet Russia, concerning whose methods and probable intentions neither the Germans nor the free peoples have any illusions. For that matter, has anyone seen any proposal from any responsible man on the allied side of this war as to what else would be done with a beaten Germany?

The blood guilt of the leading war makers has been recognized and punishment has been promised them and all those responsible for the murder of hostages, but no promises have been made that their nation will be allowed to live on as such. And it is doubtful that they would believe any assurances, because they know their nation deliberately made this war, needlessly and wantonly, and has carried it on with unnecessary cruelty.

It is said that to recognize in the German people a warlike and brutal strain of character is to indulge in the evil fallacy of racism which is one of their own worst vices. But how can anyone who rejects racism on that ground consistently hold that the Germans, as a people, are devoted to peace and kindly and poetic?

Moreover, anyone who decries as racism the attribution of a warlike character to the German people immediately contradicts himself when he speaks of German poets, philosophers and scientists. Were these men German notables ad were either gifts to the world German contribution? Because, if so, then the Kaiser and Hitler and all the evil men around them were German war makers and equally expressive of the German people.

But all this is pretty idle because it must be assumed that Germany will lose the war and that, in that case, the future of the German nation will be decided by the man whose arms fought them hardest, Joseph Stalin, who, up to now, has said nothing about the peace-loving nature of his enemies.

The Dixon Water Co. and the City of Dixon has three hundred fire hydrants in the city proper which makes quite an ample fire protection.

American Legion Meets Tonight

The monthly meetings of the American Legion will be held on the second Monday night of each month to avoid conflicts with other organizations. At the meeting tonight their will be installation of officers and a feed afterwards. All Legion men are expected to be present.

Reading Circle To Meet

Mrs. Anna Powell will be hostess Wednesday evening to the Rural Teachers Reading Circle in her home on East Mason street, meeting at 7:30.

Mrs. John Bon, Miss Evelyn Hays and Miss Dorothy Bowers will present the lesson study, "Practical School Discipline and Mental Hygiene" is the book chosen by the committee to be studied this year.

Lodges and Patriotic Orders

Triple Installation—The American Legion, 40 et 8, and Auxiliary will hold triple installation ceremonies at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the Legion hall. Mrs. Charles Edson, of Mount Morris, 13th district director, will install the Auxiliary officers; Mr. Edson, Second Division commander, will conduct the installation ritual for the post officers; and James Sullivan of Rockford, past grand chef de gare, will conduct the 40 et 8 installation. A social hour will follow.

Correction—Due to an error in a report submitted to The Telegraph, a recent issue of The Telegraph stated incorrectly that the American Legion presented an American flag to the Stony Point school Thursday evening. The Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars purchased the flag for the school, in memory of the late E. C. Risley.

More than half the 3895 fatalities which occurred at grade crossings in 1941 came during the daylight hours. During the night hours, more than half the crash fatalities were caused by automobiles hitting trains, instead of vice versa.

OF BRIGHTNESS GONE

BY HOLLY WATTERSON

THE STORY: Candace Bech, 18, has been reared by wealthy Bruce Frazier and his socially-ambitious second wife, Belle, who is Candace's aunt. At her school commencement she meets Martin Corby and falls in love for the first time. Martin is in medical school with Peter, Bruce Frazier's son by his first marriage. Returning to the Frazier home, Peter suddenly discovers that he is in love with Candace, and jealous of Martin.

CANDACE GETS A LETTER

CHAPTER IV

IN the darkness a smaller blur moved and Peter could see that Martin had reached out his hand to touch Candace's where it lay on the arm of her chair. He shot to his feet, almost choking in his rage.

Some instinct advised caution. He waited an instant to be sure of his voice; then he said, with an effort at casualness, "Well, Corby, we'd better get up and get our things together, since we're leaving so early in the morning."

"The morning?" Martin repeated. "You said we were leaving after dinner."

Peter found he could lie fairly convincingly. "I thought I told you," he said. "The Chief at the new place sent notice he wants all students in Sunday evening, instead of Monday."

It was the first time Candace had spoken in some time. "Peter," she said, and she sounded stricken, "you said you were going to stay late tomorrow. You promised." Peter himself felt stricken. He felt a heel. "I know," he admitted, "but I can't help this. I'm not doing it just to be mean." The hell you're not, he rebuked himself savagely, you're willing to spite yourself by running off, you're willing to make that poor child stay here alone with only a doddering old housekeeper for company just because she prefers Martin to you. Your nose is out of joint, that's all. . . . He suggested gently, "Didn't you say that one of your schoolmates wanted you to visit her? Why don't you go there tomorrow?"

"Because I've already told her I couldn't go there tomorrow. I can't go pushing other people's plans around to suit myself." Even though you do, her manner added clearly. She said defiantly, but as though in a desperate effort to convey a message, "I'm not going there at all. I'm not going to budge from this house."

They had come into the living room and were standing at the foot of the stairs leading to the bedrooms. "What time are you leaving?" she asked. "I'll speak to Mrs. Hobbs about breakfast." "No breakfast," Peter said with a false effort at cheer. "We'll eat on the road. Can't rout out the poor old lady at 4 o'clock or so in the morning."

"I'll get your breakfast." The way to a man's heart, Peter's mind quoted, Candace in a frilly apron, for Martin's benefit. And he said quickly, "Oh, no, you won't. You'd only hold us up. We're going to be in a hurry. You stay in bed."

He meant it as an order and she understood it that way. She was choked with impotent, indignant rage. She thought, the bully, the bully! She was on the verge of disappointed, angry tears, and she wanted to run off upstairs before they should overcome her.

She held out her hand to Martin briefly. "Goodbye," she said.

Peter held out his hand to her but she stro

Those who went to the Dixon Recreation Saturday night expecting to see Adolph Carlson and Paul Krumske roll some 200 or 300 games, were disappointed. But if they just went to see some darn good bowling, they were well satisfied.

Carlson and Krumske admitted their unfamiliarity with the alleys kept their scores down but they were still able to come out with a comfortable margin over the local leggers who matched skill with them in the three game exhibition.

Krumske picked up a 192 in his first line while Carlson shot a 193 in his second game. These were the high scores for the evening. Their total scores were: Carlson, 185-193-181-559; Krumske, 192-185-188-565, for a six game total of 1124.

Johnny Smith and Walt Klein, their opponents in the first set, had 156 and 152, respectively. Frank Daschbach, Jr., and Cy Winebrenner, who went against them in the second game, scored 129 and 151 and Daschbach, Sr., and Al Wolfe, their third game rivals, rolled 160 and 148. The six-game total for the local leggers was 896.

SIDELIGHTS

Walt Klein, president of the Dixon Bowling Association, had spares in all his frames but 3, 5 and 9. He got his first strike with his extra ball after having spared number 10. He was quite jubilant about it. Johnny Smith also had just one strike, on number 8. He had spares in all but 5 and 7. Daschbach, Jr., had a hot streak when he started, getting 2 strikes in his first two frames. However, the pace was too much for him and he was only able to get two spares in his remaining 8 frames.

Cy Winebrenner was having a lot of trouble with his first ball, leaving quite a few pins to pick up with his second. But as the game progressed, Cy got warmer, coming down the home stretch with 3 successive strikes to finish his game. Rumors were that Willard Jones was supposed to pair with Al Wolfe in the last set. However, rumor adds, Willard failed to show up so F. D. Sr., had to take his place. Jones, alias Daschbach, who put together the highest score of any of the local boys, left one pin standing in 5 frame, 2 in number 9, and had a strike in 6. The rest of his frames were spares.

Al Wolfe started with 8, 9, 8, then had spares in 4, 8 in 5, finishing with 3 spares and 2 strikes in his last 5 frames. Krumske had three 9s in a row in first set. Then he came back with strikes in 6, 7, 8 and 9 and a spare in 10. In his second game, Krumske had 9 spares in a row with a strike in number 10. He had had spares in all frames but 5 and 10 where he had strikes, in his last game. Carlson was in third frame of second game before he left any pins standing. In that frame he missed 7, 6 and 10 with his first ball. He picked up 6 and 10 for a 9. He scored a 9 in the first frame of his last game, then had 3 strikes and 6 spares to finish set.

STONEHOUSE IN STATE PGA

Ralph Stonehouse, Dixon Country club pro, entered the state P. G. A. golf tournament being held at the St. Charles Country club, but no news as to his fate has reached us yet. However, we do know that Al Huske of DeKalb, who played in an exhibition here a month or so ago, was tied for fourth with Johnny Revolta and Charles Penna as the field went into the 36-hole final round today.

MORE BOWLING

The Maxson's Alley team of Rochelle played host to the Stables leggers of Dixon, last night and was very rough in its treatment of them, taking the match game three sets in a row.

Maxson's total was 2574 to the Stables' 2352. The Rochelle boys had game scores of 890, 865 and 819. The Dixon bunch put together scores of 790, 795 and 767, but its number two man, Dusing, was high man for the evening with a series of 156-171-200-557.

Rinehart of Rochelle had 190-172-177-539 which was six strokes better than his mate, Orman, could get. Orman had 170-174-180-524.

Other Dixon scores were Ellis, 436; Hoyle, 475; McCordle, 454 and Branner, 430. Maxson had 484, Krabenbuhl totalled 509, and Jackson rolled 518 to complete the Rochelle scoring.

BOAT RACES

Dr. Miley and Winston Edwards had the fastest boats on the river yesterday, or at least they finished first in the two boat races which were a featured part of the Commande Plae Dae at Assembly park.

Edwards' 130 horse power, inboard motor speedster, was the winner of the first race which was held for boats, either inboard or

Brooks Lose Two to Reds; Yankees Win

A. League Champs Need Only One Victory to Clinch Pennant

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers are beginning to look like a couple of playboys with empty pockets fighting for the check in a night club, and it might be that they've just discovered the New York Yankees are about to clinch the American league pennant.

You know, the National league winner has to take on the Yanks in the World Series, and in five of the last six sets that has turned out to be about as hilarious as a champagne hangover.

Oh, sure, the National leaguers always have shown up for the series, but on several occasions in the past they might as well have "stood in bed." And now the hour has arrived when the Yanks can put the clincher on the 1942 flag. A victory in Cleveland today or a loss for the Boston Red Sox in Chicago gives the Yanks their sixth pennant in seven years.

So the news may have affected the Dodgers and Cardinals accordingly.

Anyway, there were few signs during yesterday's firing that either the collapsible Flatbush follies or the hot-and-cold Cardinals were any too eager to get in there with the Yankees.

The Dodgers blew up in losing both ends of a double-header to Cincinnati, 6-0, and 4-1. It's probably a lucky thing they're able to close for repairs until Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the Cards looked somewhat better in spitting a bargain bill with the Philadelphia Phils to take a one-game edge in the race. But with a chance to double that bulge they handed the first game to the Phils, 2-1. They did it, mind you, on a couple of errors with two out in the ninth.

Mark Tied, Then Broken
After that, they took the nightcap, 3 to 2, when Terry Moore broke a tie with his fifth homer of the year.

Brooklyn's efforts weren't nearly that close. In the first game Bucky Walters pitched a six-hitter and swatted a jackpot three-run double. Ray Starr, who has been about as tough for Brooklyn in the past as a walk through the park, suddenly became a Mathewson in the nightcap and hurled a five-hitter.

In this "contest" the Dodgers' fielding went bye-bye. Third-baseman Lew Riggs committed three errors in one inning to help the Reds along.

This tied a modern National league record but before the afternoon was over the mark was broken. The "hero" was young Lennie Merullo, the Chicago Cubs' shortstop. Apparently excited over becoming a new papa, Lennie fumbled four in one frame of the second game with the Boston Braves, but Chicago managed to hang on for a 12 to 8 triumph. The Braves took the opener, 11 to 6.

The Yankees arrived at the pennant doorstep by mowing down Cleveland, 9-1 and 4-1. The Red Sox also clicked twice over the Chicago White Sox 6-1 and 5-0 with Bill Butland winning his seventh in a row in the first and Tex Hughson collecting his 19th of the year in the afterpiece.

The New York Giants knocked over Pittsburgh twice, 5-0 and 5-3; the St. Louis Browns gave Philadelphia Athletics the same medicine, 7-0 and 3-2, and Washington took the first from Detroit, 5-2, but lost the second, 8-0.

outboard, with 16 h. p. or more. Seven boats were entered in this race and they all got a fast, even start at the Medusa cement plant. However, the 90 h. p. inboard racer of Orville Gearhart jumped into an early lead which it retained for three-fourths of the way around the route which led past the judges' boat, circled around the island, back up the north side of the island, to the finish line off the old beach at the park.

Edwards passed Gearhart on the outside as they hit the straightaway and finished going away. He had about a 20-yard advantage at the end. The rest of the boats were evenly bunched with Gearhart second; Howard Bieseker (outboard, 24 h. p.); Bob Crawford (outboard 32 h. p.); fourth; Robinson and Stewart (inboard 20 h. p.); fifth; Don Wiemken (inboard 25 h. p.); sixth; and Frank Villiger with his 175 h. p. inboard motor job holding down seventh, which earned him consolation favors.

Jess Collins, piloting an 8 h. p. outboard motorboat, was leading the field in the second race (for boats under 16 h. p.) until the turn when his motor conked. He was able to limp in third, but Dr. Miley (outboard 16 h. p.) was a 30-yard winner and John Rohr (outboard 9 h. p.) was second. Fourth place went to Jim McCleanahan who was driving a 5 h. p. outboard racer. Richardson-Stewart (inboard 10

LEO SAVED FROM SUSPENSION BY TIGHT FLAG RACE

Brooklyn, Sept. 14.—(AP)—There's some consolation for Brooklyn fans in the Dodgers' National league plight, after all.

Manager Leo Durocher has a telegram from league President Ford C. Frick today in which Frick informed him he had been fined $100 and that "only the closeness of the National league race" kept the Dodger boss from suspension for his run-in Saturday with Umpire Al Barlick.

Chuck Drensen, coach of the Dodgers, was fined $50 and suspended five days for the same dispute.

Both Drensen and Durocher were ousted Saturday for their part of the argument which followed a close play at first in the seventh inning of the game with the St. Louis Cards.

Big 10 Grid Season Will Open on Sat.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Iowa and Wisconsin enter the football wars Saturday as the Western Conference launches a 65-game season.

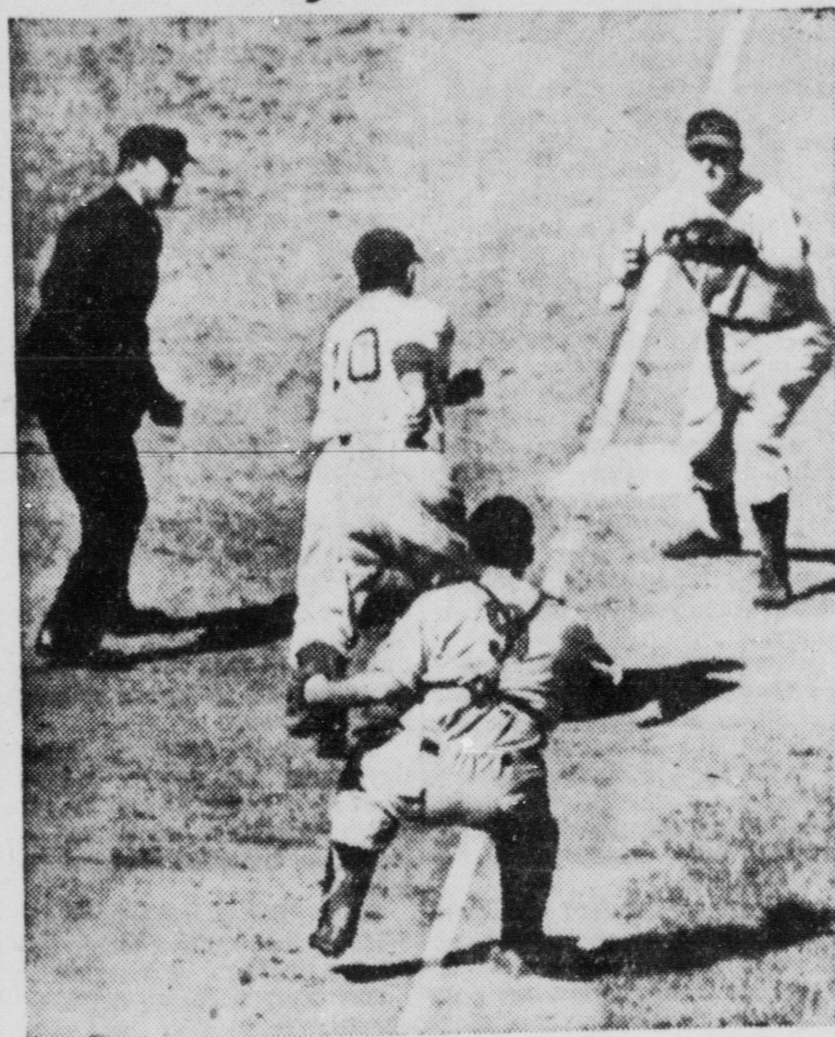

The Hawkeyes, built primarily around energetic sophomores, play Washington University of St. Louis at Iowa City, while the Badgers tackle the Camp Grant, Ill., soldiers at Madison.

On the following Saturday, Sept. 26, all major grid teams in the midwest will go into action.

h. p.) were awarded consolation favors. The prizes ($5 in defense stamps for first; $3 in defense stamps for second; and $2 for third) will be mailed out this week by the boat racing committee.

The river banks on both sides of the course were lined with spectators but it is a rather regrettable incident that very few paid to enter Assembly park where the Plae Dae activities were being held. All the proceeds of the event went to USO.

TOM KUZMA WILL MAKE CRISLER HAPPY BY PROVING HIM WRONG

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 14.—(AP)—If Tom Kuzma can force Fritz Crisler to swallow his words this football season, Tom and Fritz will both be happy and so will Michigan.

Coach Crisler, grinning sheepishly, acknowledges gossip which credits him with having said that Kuzma, sophomore halfback sensation of last year, might not give the Wolverines as much help this season.

Possibly Crisler figured that no star could be as right two years in a row as the 1941 Kuzma. Even so, Kuzma, an expert at everything, is counted on as Michigan's ace.

The Wolverines, who won six, lost one and tied another last year, have been working for a full week now, and if those powerful Kuzma legs have lost any of their former speed and agility, it's not to be detected from the sidelines.

Kuzma is that second halfback named Tom who came to Michigan from Gary, Ind. (You haven't forgotten Harmon?) and became a sophomore sensation. He's a canny punter, a good passer, and a hard runner. On first year statistics he's ahead of Harmon's college record.

This season Kuzma should be the spark-plug in a backfield that appears the peer of any in the Western Conference. Granite-shouldered George Ceithaml of Chicago, the team captain, is back to maintain his reputation as a fierce blocker. Paul White, a speed-merchant from River Rouge, Mich., was injured for a spell in 1941 but he has returned looking healthy indeed and will get Crisler's call at right.

Crisler's real perplexity is his line—particularly the tackles and ends. Al (Ox) Wistert is the only returning veteran at tackle. A made-over end, Jack Karwales of Chicago, probably will get the nod at the other tackle, and sophomores will have to provide reserve strength.

Like most colleges, the Wolverines have a long, severe schedule, opening here Sept. 26 with Great Lakes and then on successive Saturdays meeting Michigan State, Iowa Seahawks, Northwestern, Minnesota, Illinois, Harvard, Notre Dame, Ohio State and Iowa.

KIMBROUGH STARS IN TEAM'S DEFEAT

Soldier Gridders Have 3 to 2 Advantage Over Pros

New York, Sept. 14.—(AP)—It's still a question whether the Army All Star football teams, with three decisions in five games against National pro league clubs, will be able to hold that edge in the remaining three contests, but it is a dead sure clinch the pros will have had their fill of John Kimbrough.

Virtually out of the sport for two years except for a few games last season, the Texas A & M graduate of 1940 is the September sensation as a member of Maj. Wallace Wade's Western Army All Stars.

Against the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee yesterday he ran back a kick for 95 yards and a touchdown as his mates went down in defeat, 36 to 21.

It was the second time he went that distance in the four games his soldier mates have played and the third time he reached pay dirt from more than 50 yards out.

In yesterday's defeat he also plunged for another six-pointer and set up a third with his pulverizing.

Cards Win Opener

The loss made the Army's record against the pros three wins and two defeats, including the 16 to 0 triumph piled up by Col. Robert Neyland's Eastern forces against the New York Giants Saturday.

The Easterners, playing their first game, held the Giants, eastern sectional champions of 1941, to a net gain of 57 yards by rushing while Capt. John Pingel, formerly of Michigan State, took over the offensive duties.

The Neyland machine takes on the Brooklyn Dodgers at Baltimore Wednesday night before tackling the big bad Bears from Chicago in another charity contest at Boston Sunday. The Westerners' final contest is with the Giants at Syracuse, N. Y., Saturday night.

While the Khaki kickers monopolized the spotlight, four pro eleveners opened the league season with the Chicago Cards downing the Cleveland Rams at Buffalo, 7 to 0, and the Philadelphia Eagles unveiling their new T-formation at the expense of the Pittsburgh Steelers, 24 to 14.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, Sept. 14.—It was bound to come—what with all these tales of coach-shortages that have appeared since football began making the headlines, and Hal Sayles of the Abilene (Tex.) Reporter-News brings the first report of a college player-coach.

The guy is Arthur Nylie, a 225-pound tackle at McMurry college, who was drafted by headman Jim Conger when no line coach could be located. "Nylie will play his usual 50 or 60 minutes on game days and coach the rest of the week. If Art pulls a boner, Sayles suggests there's only one thing for him to do—go to the sidelines, beckon to a sub and say: "Go in there with tackle for that thick-headed Wylie. Won't he ever get what I teach him?"

DUCKS PLENTIFUL

New York.—(AP)—The latest report from Ducks Unlimited brings good news for the fall hunting season. Word from the breeding area is that the increase in ducks this season will equal the combined yearly increases between 1938 and 1941.

Greatest losses this year were laid to crows and other predators—the highest on record in that category. However, floods, droughts and fires were controlled to the extent that no losses from such causes were reported.

Frisinia Cops State Crown

Last Year's Runner-Up Beats Holmstrom in Amateur Meet

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Jim Frisia of Taylorville, manager of 25 Illinois movie theaters, is the winner of the 12th state amateur golf championship.

Twice Frisia had won the qualifying medal in his long bid for the state crown, and last year arrived in the final showdown for it only to lose to George Dawson, 2 and 1.

Yesterday, the movie man downed big Johnny Holmstrom of Rockford 1 up in a hectic seasaw engagement which was all square five times on the last 18 holes. Frisia ultimately took a one-up advantage with a 17-foot putt for birdie 3 on the 34th green. Both bogied the 35th and parred the 36th.

Holmstrom, state champion in 1938, was seeking to become the third golfer in tournament records to win the title twice. Captain of the University of Illinois foursome last season, Holmstrom aimed to pack the 1942 championship in his luggage today as he headed back to Champaign to enroll in the law school.

FERRELL FACING BANISHMENT FROM BASEBALL TODAY

Newport News, Va., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Wes Ferrell, the highly vocal former American league pitcher, headed toward his Carolina home and possible banishment from baseball today.

Ferrell, now managing Lynchburg of the Virginia league, brought his club here yesterday for the playoffs but when Umpire Winston Milan banished his shortstop in the first inning the ex-major leaguer ordered his club off the field and started back home.

C. R. Williams, league president, fined Ferrell $200 and suspended him indefinitely. Williams said Ferrell would not play any more this season and that he would leave it up to W. G. Bramham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, to determine when Ferrell again might return to organized baseball.

UNCLE SAM CALLS 'ALL ASHORE' IN NEW CALEDONIA

U. S. troops, wearing full battle equipment, clamber out of launch and big barge onto docks of a New Caledonia harbor. Troopships carried them to the southwest Pacific isle to guard the point against Japanese attack.

IT'S WASH DAY IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE ON TROPICAL ISLE

Native Kanaka girls, left, turning brook into a hand laundry, give the soldiers de luxe service New Caledonia style. Right: U. S. Army jeep gets a bath by soldier who dunks it in a pool and follows up with broom to make it shine in the new surroundings.

New Guinea Mountains Scene of Japs' Jungle Drive

In the jungled mountains of southeastern New Guinea (Papua) Jap troops have passed the peaks of the Owen Stanley range and threaten a downhill drive to Port Moresby from their positions at Efolgi, Myola and Kokoda. Map shows the mountains, jungles and slopes in this sparsely settled area. Only a few native villages lie on the 50 miles of hilly road between the enemy and the great U. S. Australian base at Port Moresby.

Snappy, Huh?

Presenting . . . the new "Home Front" uniform. Semi-military, it will be worn by the 250,000 women enrolled as volunteer workers in Bundles for America, Inc.

Plugging for Victory

Nose plugs in 500-pound aerial bombs in a Canadian plant are tightened by a girl employee before being shipped abroad as "Bundles for Berlin."

Scene on Midway During Battle

A photo made during the battle of Midway last June, just released for publication, showing oil tanks on the island fired by Jap bombs. Midway has long been a bird sanctuary, and a sea fowl placidly nests in the foreground despite the fight raging around her.

Miss America

—NEA Telephoto

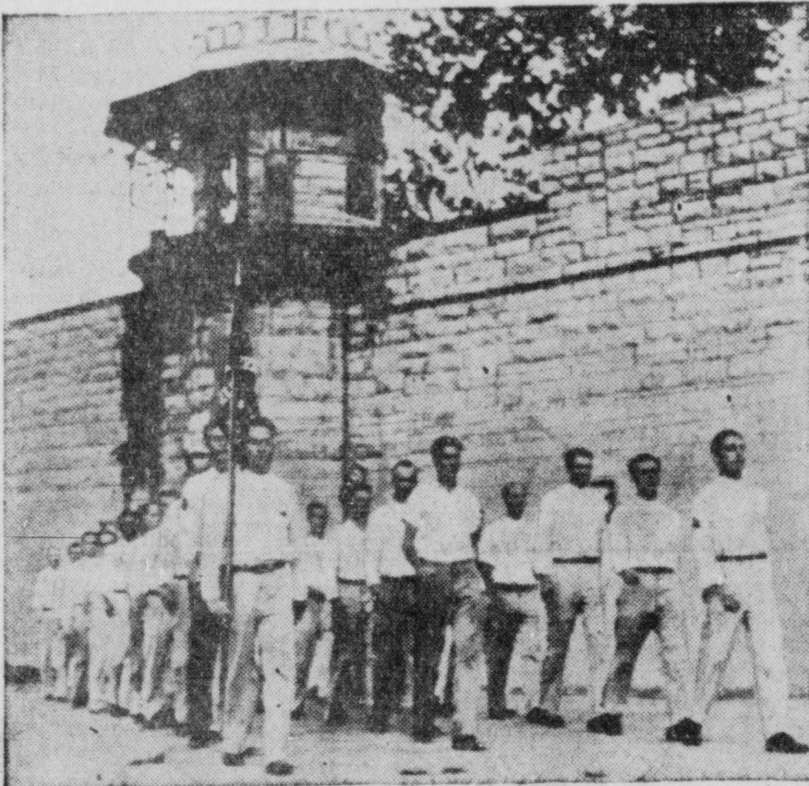

Jo-Carroll Dennison, Tyler, Texas, chosen Miss America of 1942 at annual Atlantic City Beauty contest poses with her sceptre but wears Texas sombrero instead of crown.

The Urals---Russia's Mountainous Industrial Area

Beyond Moscow, Stalingrad and the Volga lies this vast area of mountains and industries where Russia gets many of her minerals and builds a growing number of war machines now that industrial areas to the west are captured or endangered. Network of railroads provides fast transport to fighting fronts.

Hope to Be Freed---To Fight

Believing that the U. S. may accept them in the armed services, 150 Missouri State Prison convicts have drilled voluntarily for weeks. Though there is no assurance that they will be accepted the men undergo a rigid course of calisthenics, center, to keep themselves physically fit and all have pledged allegiance to their flag and country. Below: Only short-termers with good conduct records can join the group.

Georgia's Next Governor

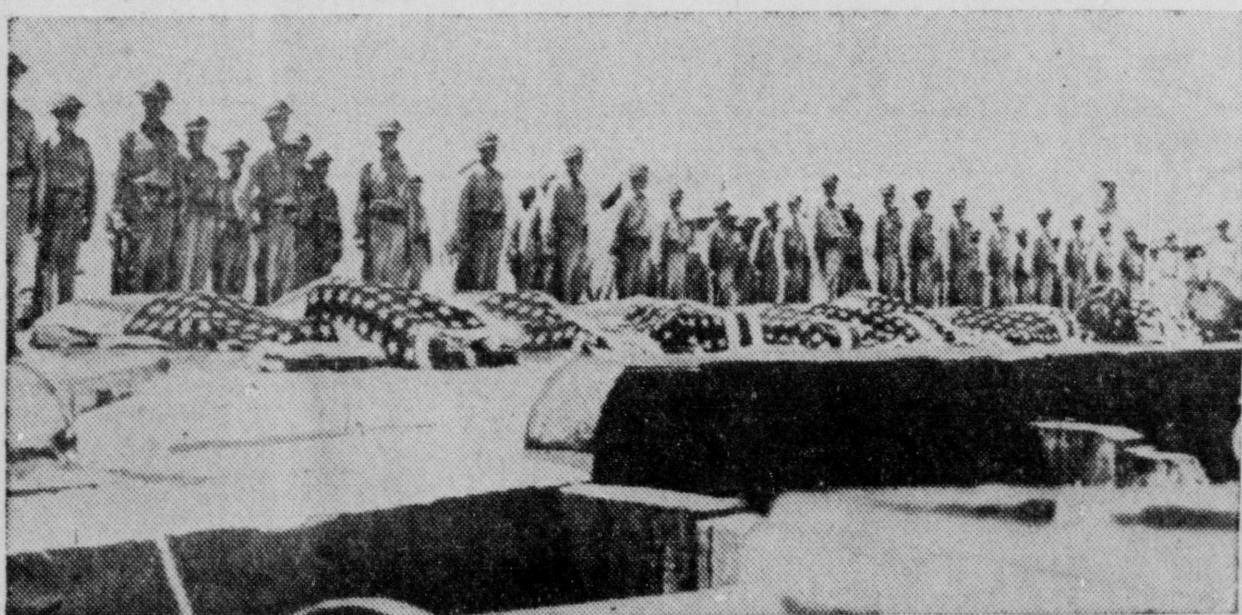

Ellis Arnall, 35, state attorney general, and Mrs. Arnall receive word that he defeated fiery Gov. Eugene Talmadge in the Democratic primary. The nomination is equivalent to election. (NEA Telephoto.)

Its a Come-Down for the Axis

German and Italian airmen, guarded by Tommies, walk through axis-coveted Malta as prisoners after being shot down over heavily bombed Mediterranean island.

Midway Heroes Honored at Scene of Death

Memorial services on Midway Island, lonely Pacific stronghold, for the American defenders killed during the battle of Midway June 4, 5, and 6. This official United States navy picture, made shortly after the fight, has just been released for publication.

Victory 'Eggs'

Not eggs, not bombs, but plastic housings for loop antennas to guide U. S. planes to enemy targets. Used successfully to guide bombers to Tokyo, they're in big demand.
